

ISLAND LOCALS.

ABOUT TOWN.

The new Mutual Telephone card just issued shows a total list of about 530.

The Mariposa made a smart run of 6 days and 12 hours from San Francisco to Honolulu.

Mr. J. H. Soper and Mr. T. R. Lucas returned from San Francisco by the Mariposa last Friday.

Purser Brewster, of the Mariposa, did not fail the Gazette with news favors last Friday. Thanks.

On the 24th a couple of boat races are promised the public by two crews of the Honolulu Yacht and Boat Club.

Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, has been appointed by Mr. Justice Preston trustee under the will of the late Princess Likelike.

The Oceanic Company's brig J. D. Spreckels, which sailed for San Francisco on Thursday last, took a mail for the coast.

On Saturday, at 10:30, His Majesty paid a visit to the Hawaiian warship Kaimiloa. The yards were not manned on this occasion.

A prominent correspondent of the leading German newspapers in the Western United States, Mr. E. Benninghove, arrived by the Mariposa.

The band played at Emma Square last evening, and an unusually fine programme was presented, which pleased the assembled audience.

Owing to the short stay in port of the Mariposa, Miss Sherwin was unable to give her proposed entertainment here—the steamer sailing at 2 p. m.

On Friday afternoon Bandmaster Berger, with his usual thoughtfulness, favored the patients of the Queen's Hospital with a choice selection of music.

By the Kaimiloa it is learned that two New Hebrides jumped from a pull into the sea at Yokala, and their bodies did not, at the latest accounts, have recovered.

On Wednesday evening last the resignation of the Rev. E. C. Ogden as pastor of the Bethel Union congregation was formally accepted by the members of that church.

Mr. L. B. Kerr received by the Mariposa a number of bronze medals commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the accession of Queen Victoria to the throne of Great Britain.

This evening, at 7:30 o'clock, is the time appointed to act on the proposition of the Bethel Union congregation consolidating with the Fort-street Church congregation.

During the absence of Mr. J. F. Hackfeld from this Kingdom, Mr. E. Muller will discharge the duties of Consul for Belgium, and Mr. H. W. Schmidt will act as vice-consul for Russia.

A meeting of the Second Division of the Liliuokalani Educational Society was held in the Palace grounds on Saturday last. The St. Louis College band furnished the music on this occasion.

It is announced that Mr. W. A. Johnson, well known on the "front" as a competent engineer, has received the appointment of Engineer-in-Chief of the Wilder Steamship Company.

Do not forget that Rev. J. A. Cranau will deliver a lecture next Thursday evening, at the W. C. T. U. Hall, for the benefit of the W. C. T. U. The subject will be "The Opening of the Mississippi."

Capt. Macaulay, of the steamer James Makoe, reports very rough weather at Kailua and Anahulu from going ashore.

Capt. Otto von Muhlbech, of the Prussian army, who is making a tour of the world, was a passenger by the Mariposa. The Captain is also a contributor to several of the leading German papers in Europe.

Marshal Kaula's white hat was visible in town last Saturday. The Marshal has been up interviewing the "boys" on the other islands, and returns to his duties looking as dry as a "summer's morn'."

The lecture by Professor L. L. Van Slyke, which was announced to come off on Friday evening last at Y. M. C. A. Hall, has been postponed to Friday evening, May 27th. The subject will be announced later on.

Major Duns, who will be kindly remembered here by many of our citizens, who listened to his very interesting lectures on various topics, was a passenger for the Colonies from San Francisco, by the Mariposa.

Subscription lists are out for Queen Victoria's Jubilee, and if they all succeed as well as the one in the hands of Mr. E. B. Thomas, there will be no doubt about the "sinews of war," and a creditable celebration will follow.

On Tuesday, while a sickly Chinaman was being conveyed in a hack from one of the steamers to the Queen's Hospital, he suddenly expired. The body was taken to the Police Station, and subsequently transferred to the deceased's friends. The Chinaman had only arrived from Maui that day.

Harry Weeks, the runner of the Kaimiloa, has been dismissed for "playing the old sailor" a little too much. This is bad for Harry. What will become of him now? Quartermaster Cox has been promoted in his stead. F. Bert, the Captain's steward, is also reported as having "shook" the Kaimiloa.

Shortly after the Kaimiloa went to sea on Saturday, the steamer Surprise steamed out of the harbor and soon came up with the cruiser and passed her. No doubt Captain Weisbach of the Surprise thought he was doing a big thing in passing the Hawaiian war vessel—he ought to have known better.

The warship Kaimiloa on Saturday afternoon made a short cruise outside, going beyond Diamond Head, returning to port about five o'clock and anchoring in the stream. Everything on board worked satisfactorily, and the short trip was considered a success. Capt. Shepherd acted as pilot on this occasion.

Letters from San Francisco state that it is not unlikely that a special excursion of school teachers may visit the Islands from San Francisco in June next. The Oceanic Steamship Company has the matter in hand, and will dispatch the steamship Australia from that port June 25, and she will leave here July 5, giving the visitors one week here.

A number of Chinese at Hanalei embarked Wednesday on the James Makoe for Honolulu, and on arrival here went on shore, leaving one of their number on board, apparently asleep. On examination the man was found to be dead. No cause for death was assigned. The body was removed to the station house, and was subsequently turned over to the friends of the deceased. No inquest was held.

Several very fine works of art appear in Hewitt's window and are attracting very general attention. They represent fruit and flower scenes, and will bear close inspection. They are the work of Mrs. E. H. Burdell, of San Francisco, sister of Mr. E. H. Burdell, former man of the Hawaiian Gazette, and reflect credit on the lady artist, who appears to handle her brush with the precision of a finished painter.

"Boss" Harris, of the Kaimiloa, after receiving his advance and a suit of clothes, including a tolerably fair "cheese-knife," skipped on the burlesque Ella on Thursday, for San Francisco, taking his "kit" with him. It seems that Harris obtained leave from the "kit" to go on shore to have his pictures taken, and finding the Ella about to sail, he hurried to the office of time keeper, and sending down a superior work art in the shape of a fool to adorn the wardrobe of the now celebrated Kaimiloa. The gunner was not so fortunate, and is still on board the "frigate" under surveillance.

Dry weather has apparently again set in. The weather Sunday and yesterday was extremely sultry and disagreeable.

It is rumored in town that Minister Bush will return from Samoa with Paymaster Webb on one of the Oceanic steamers. What's in the wind now?

Saturday evening Mrs. Florence Williams delivered her lecture on Faust at Harmony Hall, to a good audience. Mrs. Williams throughout showed a thorough knowledge of her subject, and was listened to with marked attention.

It is rumored that Mr. C. N. Spencer has been appointed Inspector of Immigrants, in place of Hon. A. S. Cleghorn, who has become Collector General. Mr. Spencer will probably prove an efficient official.

Major Wroughton, of Wailua, has been staying at the Queen's Hospital, in order to be treated for a wound in the hand. The accident happened through the slipping of a chisel. It is pleasing to learn that the Major is improving.

A very heavy shower came up from the south on Monday afternoon just at 2 p. m. It lasted about ten minutes, but the water came down fairly in sheets, and flooded everything for a short time.

It must have made Pilot Shepherd's head swim when bringing in the Kaimiloa, drawing ten feet of water, and having to keep the lead going. Just think of the leadman singing out "a quarter less five," and having to look after the safety of a ship drawing so much water. It's enough to make a pilot bald-headed.

A great many people here suppose that very little of the inner history of this little pinhead kingdom is known to the outside world. To disabuse their minds of this pet theory they want to read the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of March 28th, and it will readily be seen that the writers for that paper possess the complete inner history of Hawaiian royalty—and they handle it as if it was a dirty question. Such is greatness.

The sword and cap worn by Ben Harris, of the Kaimiloa, and which it was supposed had been taken with him when he left for the Coast, were found in a lodging-house. The landlord claiming that Harris owed him $5, and he proposed to hold the "cheese-knife" and cap until the "little bill" was settled. Paymaster Joseph Sykes Webb interviewed the landlord and settled this little affair, and walked off with the sword and cap.

Murrah! The Road Supervisor is not dead, as many supposed. He still lives, and has made his mark on Bereitania street, from Nuanun street east. A portion of this thoroughfare has received a coating of rotten stone and black sand. The steam roller has also passed over it a few times, making it look almost as good as new. He has also had some of the principal streets scraped, where the mud was a little too deep, and the soil carted off to where it will do the most good. "Small favors thankfully received."

Officer Reynolds, agent of the Board of Health, has been doing a good work lately in compelling the Chinese pot manufacturers to carry off their refuse and deposit it outside the city, instead of, as formerly, dumping it outside their doors to breed miasmas and fever in the heart of the city. Another nuisance which now exists is the emptying of all into the street by Celestials, which sometimes seriously interferes with traveling. It is not pleasant for one to receive a shower bath of this description while jogging along through the streets, even if it should prove to be only dishwashings.

HAWAII.

Exceedingly rough weather has prevailed along the Hawaii coast during the past week. Heavy rains have fallen, and strong trades prevail.

Messrs. Gribble & Cabot, surveyors for the Hilo and Hamakua railroad, are making a survey preparatory to commencing the work. They have got as far as Opono, and will push the work forward as fast as possible, hoping to complete the same in about six weeks.

Messrs. Rickard & Marsden, of Honolulu, are making arrangements for the practical trial of their patent for the use of the waste heat now escaping through the smoke stack. Should this method prove successful, it will result in a very considerable economy of fuel. It will at least be watched with interest by practical men.

The recent long continuance of dry weather, with heavy winds, has been a serious drawback to growing cane in Hamakua, especially on the lower lands. It has, however, been very favorable for hailing, and all into the hills having been working to full capacity, are now looking forward to a timely closing of the season.

Messrs. Horner & Sons, of Kula, Hamakua, contemplate building a piece of railroad some two and a half miles in length, which, in difficulties and expense of construction, will be of much the same character as that contemplated through Hilo. The railroad road is for the purpose of conveying cane to the mill, and will be worked in conjunction with the sweepstake wagons now in use there.

The appointment of H. Morrison, of Hialeah, to the management of the Hawaiian Commercial Company's interests on Maui, is a well deserved recognition of ability and faithfulness. By virtue of characteristics of industry and energy, a large and firm grasp of mind, systematic methods and valuable experience, Mr. Morrison is eminently fitted for the arduous task on which he is about to enter, and if success can be secured he will no doubt accomplish it. He will be seriously missed from the Hilo district, where he and his wife will be kindly remembered about town.

The League.

The Bine Ribbon League had a good audience on Saturday evening, and a humorous programme was dispensed. It is pleasant to note that these meetings are being recognized by the public as one of the regular Saturday evening entertainments, and it is to be hoped they will long continue in the foreground and be the means of reclaiming many from the path of intemperance.

Fire Department Election.

Mr. M. D. Monsarrat, who has recently been nominated by the members of Pacific House and others for the position of Chief Engineer of the Honolulu Fire Department, will arrive from Hawaii on the next trip of the W. G. Hall to prosecute the canvass for the coming election, which will take place on Monday, June 6th. This ticket is composed of the following persons: M. D. Monsarrat, Chief Engineer; Julius Aosh, First Assistant; Peter Sogami, Second Assistant; Ernest Cos. No. 1, 2 and 4, and the Hooks have nominated C. B. Wilson for Chief Engineer, C. F. Hattie for First Assistant and James F. Morgan for Second Assistant.

A Pleasant Re-union.

On Thursday last Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jones held a reception, the occasion being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. A large number of friends availed themselves of the opportunity for offering their congratulations. The rooms in which the reception was held were prettily decorated. The happy couple, who had been married for a quarter of a century, stood in an alcove; over head was suspended a beautiful marriage bell, composed of stephanotis, while on the right was an exquisite nosegay of flowers. The quarter-century bride-groom looked more portly than usual, while Mrs. Jones showed little signs of age. Time, however, of course, had not a shadow of twenty-five years.

Time has indeed dealt quietly, and has only mellowed and beautified. The evening was spent in pleasant conversation and the discussion of excellent ice-cream.

Memorial Day.

The following gentlemen have been appointed by Geo. W. DeLong Post, G. A. R., a committee to make the necessary arrangements for the due observance of Memorial Day, May 30th, viz: Rev. J. A. Cranau, Messrs. C. H. Eldridge, J. Ross, F. Turrill and J. Austin—all members of the G. A. R.

Honolulu Typographical Union.

At the meeting of Honolulu Typographical Union No. 37, last Saturday evening, the following officers were elected: President, James S. Turner; Vice President, U. G. Wilson; Secretary, J. J. Green; Treasurer, W. M. Tomroy; Trustees, C. A. Feistner, R. Sutcliffe, C. K. Spencer; Sergeant-at-Arms, Alonso Kalia.

The Gynberg Ballads.

Late yesterday afternoon Mr. A. T. Atkin, son received the above pamphlets from Marshall Kaula, which had been detained in the Custom House, pending the order of Court. The case originally contained 900 copies, as per invoice, but on a recent after delivery, four were found to be missing. This humorous brochure may be had at Hewitt's news depot, Campbell block, Merchant street.

The Paymaster of the Navy.

Mr. Joseph S. Webb, Paymaster of the Hawaiian Navy, owing to his recent severe ordeal in attending to the duties of his new position; has been tendered a holiday, and his physicians have recommended a sea voyage, as best of his departure in the Kaimiloa for Samoa yesterday. The Kaimiloa's band furnished the music for the occasion. Bandmaster Berger furnished a new composition, the "Kaimiloa March," which the boys rendered in good style. The dining-hall was tastefully decorated, and dancing followed, after which the company sat down to a well-laid board of the table d'hôte, and themselves. At the close of the health of His Majesty was drunk, as was also that of Captain Jackson. Captain Jackson responded, after which the guests departed, having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Farewell by Captain Jackson.

Thursday evening Captain and Mrs. Jackson entertained their friends at their residence, Palama, and the gallant captain on this occasion took occasion to say farewell in view of his departure in the Kaimiloa for Samoa yesterday. The Kaimiloa's band furnished the music for the occasion. Bandmaster Berger furnished a new composition, the "Kaimiloa March," which the boys rendered in good style. The dining-hall was tastefully decorated, and dancing followed, after which the company sat down to a well-laid board of the table d'hôte, and themselves. At the close of the health of His Majesty was drunk, as was also that of Captain Jackson. Captain Jackson responded, after which the guests departed, having enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Ladies Benevolent Society.

On Tuesday last the annual business meeting of this society was held at the Fort Street Church, the attendance being very good. Following is a list of the officers elected to serve the coming year: President, Mrs. W. F. Allen; Vice President, Mrs. J. A. Hopper; Secretary, Mrs. L. A. Thurston; Treasurer, Mrs. P. C. Jones; Directress, Mrs. S. C. Allen. Several committees were appointed, and the other business transacted was of the usual routine character.

In the evening the monthly social was held, and a large number of persons were present. Songs from the first of the donors and evergreens. A literary and musical programme was effectively rendered by a number of volunteers, followed by excellent refreshments.

Mrs. Margaret Parker.

I have just received from Miss Frances E. Willard, President of the National W. C. T. U. of America, the following letter, introducing Mrs. Parker, whom we hope soon to welcome here on her journey around the world, following Mrs. Leavitt in the interests of the World's Woman's Temperance Union.

MRS. J. M. WITTE.

Another World's Organizer. The World's W. C. T. U. has to-day four organizers in the field: Mrs. Leavitt in India, Miss Gray in Switzerland, Mrs. Anderson Meijerholm in Sweden, and Mrs. Margaret Parker, soon to go to the Sandwich Islands, Australia, and we hope, to Japan. So much from the first of the donors and evergreens. A literary and musical programme was effectively rendered by a number of volunteers, followed by excellent refreshments.

Mrs. Hannah Whitall Smith, Secretary of the American Branch of the World's W. C. T. U., has worked indefatigably to advance its interests. Mrs. Clara L. Roush and Mrs. Rev. Dr. Newman, of Boston, have been made superintendents respectively of the Departments of the Press and Legal Work, and we are now so fortunate as to have the help of Mrs. Margaret Parker, who has been named by the American section as its organizer; for the plan is that each organized section shall turn missionary, and send out as many as it can to till the foreign field. It is a bit of pleasant reciprocity which enables us thus to pre-empt the services of our genial sister, who has said in her repeated visits to our country that she has met more at home with us than on the other side. Her spirit is so broad and her insight so deep that she is, in the best sense of the word, a progressive woman, who bases upon the evolution of Christianity her hopes for the human race.

Mrs. Parker was the pioneer of the White Ribbon movement in Great Britain, having called the convention from which resulted the British Women's Temperance Association, having been for years its President, and being now a leading member of its Executive Committee. Mrs. Parker was also chosen President of the National W. C. T. U. organized at the Philadelphia Convention in the Centennial year, and which would have lived and wrought had the married co-operation been vouchsafed. She was at one and the same time President of the local W. C. T. U. of her own town (Dundee), of the British Women's Temperance Association, and of this one, named for international service, she speaks enough for her standing as a worker beloved and capable. Mrs. Parker is one of John B. Gough's converts to total abstinence, and he had none more effective. She has written a book about her trips to America, and handles her pen gracefully and well. On the platform she is a woman of power and persuasive, with a rich English voice and choice use of language. Her children are grown and settled in life, except one lovely daughter, who keeps house for her father in Mrs. Parker's absence.

Arrests Extraordinary.

On Saturday evening last officer J. Robinson, of the mounted police, distinguished himself by arresting the boss of the police force, the Attorney-General, and others, bringing them safely to the Station House. How he dared to do his duty on this occasion, and how it was appreciated at headquarters, will probably be shown in the near future by the removal of his "official scalp" for daring to do his duty. Well, officer Robinson can say truthfully that he has accomplished what no other police officer dared to do—arrest a drunken Attorney-General, who apparently had no respect for the high position he was attempting to fill or for himself. Did this drunken scoundrel file the usual bonds of $500 or were they allowed to go scot free?

Lord Wolsley's Advice to Cadets.

Gen. Lord Wolsley, acting for the Duke of Cambridge, presided recently at the distribution of prizes at the Royal Military Academy, Woolwich. In his subsequent address to the cadets Lord W. said that the career which the cadets had before them was great and glorious; but he exhorted them not to despise small things. He hoped he was not saying wrong in wishing that they might be called upon for active service. A campaign was the real test of a soldier, and if they were so fortunate they would find that success in war was made up of diligent attention to apparently trifles. The highest essential for success in active service was zeal in the performance of a soldier's duty. They must let their supporters see that they were in earnest, devoted, self-denying, and ever foremost, and if they sought distinction it would surely come. Never let them lose a chance, not only of a campaign, for that might come or not, according to events, but of putting themselves in the way of operations involving personal risk. I know that this advice is not in accord with the wishes of fond relatives and friends, but I am bound to tell you, distinctly and liberally, that, according to my experience and observation, the surest way to success in active service is to face danger; in plain words, to take every opportunity of being shot.

The Late Henry Ward Beecher.

The Albany Law Journal of March 19th says, editorially: "Mr. Beecher was excessively impulsive and guileless, almost to boyishness, and this led him sometimes to say and do unbecomingly things, and made him the prey of designing men. This was the cause of the great scandal that embittered his later years, and undoubtedly impaired his influence. We recorded our conviction about this unhappy affair at the time, and should not now refer to it except to repeat the opinion of the leading counsel for the plaintiff, the late William A. Beach. Mr. Beach was predisposed to believe Mr. Beecher guilty, but Beecher's large heart and active sympathies brightened his whole life, and sympathized through the clouds of calumny. He loved, ministered unto, and blest his fellow-men, and his life was blessed and his end was peace. Fortunate are those who have listened to that hearty voice, been cheered by that magic smile, melted to cheers and moved to laughter by that irresistible charm, elevated and purified by those sublime teachings, warmed in the glow of that wonderful personality. When shall we look upon his like again?"
